This school was built on pride and the Thunderbird students surely carry it through. Eager students participated in the activities offered. The overall attitudes of the teens on this campus has really been positive. "The pride in our school unifies us into one group, the Thunderbird Chiefs," commented junior, Amy Gower.

School spirit was kept alive by all the "rowdy" people. They got everyone involved in chants at games and assemblies. Spirit days brought out "true colors" and were a large factor in promoting spirit. With our spirit, school would not be the same.

While pride unifies, spirit unites by getting people involved. "People can see and feel spirit of students around them" explained junior, Marielina Esperanza.

Not only did Thunderbird execute spirit and pride on campus, but also in the surrounding community. Teens on campus were involved in several community service projects such as Key Club, led by Larry Prochnau. Key Club sponsored a stair climb for Cystic Fibrosis. Other service vents that took place were the traditional blood drive and the canned food drive. These both were held to assist the community. Another big part of Thunderbird is the S.A.D.D. program; Students Against Driving Drunk. Senior, Brian Booker was the President of S.A.D.D. and worked to promote this with students and parents. Thunderbird has played a major role in community service.

Out of the Blue . . . Thunderbird students bring forth pride and spirit for the school. Striving for excellence has always been a trait of Thunderbird and this year has certainly been no exception. From school to community service, Thunderbird shows its pride.

Changes in the campus buildings and administration helped the students feel Thunderbird acquired an entirely new image. Some of these changes include the remodeling of the cafeteria, the adding of the lobby to the gym, the remodeling of the classrooms, the concession stand added to the stadium, and the painting of the buildings. Along with the building changes there were changes in the administration such as the addition of Dick Eberly, the operations and resource Assistant Principal; and Mark Farison the Dean of Students.

The cafeteria was remodeled to take on a restaurant look. The funding for these alterations was made possible by the bond election that was passed in May of 1986. This was the first time that major work has been done on the school cafeteria. "I think improving the campus will encourage more people to come to school and to stay on campus for lunch."

said Jenifer Sangster, junior. The picnic benches in the quad were also replaced.

Construction of the gym was to be completed in time for the first home basketball game. The lobby includes a trophy case and a ticket booth.

Over the summer the computer rooms were made bigger to allow space for more computers. Because of the added room, and computers it was possible for all of the computer students to work at the same time. They also added a concession stand and restrooms for the stadium.

In addition to all of these changes the buildings were also repainted. "I think the changes helped the students to respect the campus more," said junior Darla Kneiss.

Thunderbird's campus saw many different changes over the past year, and possibly more to come. "I feel that improving the campus will give Thunderbird a better name," said Wendy Emerson, junior.

Suns' Gorilla promotes assembly excitement

by Nancy Trimble

Spirit rose to its peak as the Phoenix Suns gorilla fired up students at the first assembly. Enthusiasm spread while cheerleaders led the class competition. Junior Lorelei Kuhn said, "The freshman seemed more enthused because of the excitement of their first year in high school." Danielle Andreine was among many seniors who enjoyed the assembly. She commented, "The senior class showed more spirit and rowdiness than I've seen in all my four years here."

Alvin Adams, a well known Phoenix Suns player silenced the crowd momentarily with his speech about aiming for success without drugs. The speech inspired many people. One junior, Sean Kaye, replied "A lot of kids look up to Alvin Adams."

Homecoming '86

Spirit was everywhere, thanks to the creative dress up days and activities of Homecoming Week. Students showed their spirit by dressing up in anything that didn't match, backwards, and inside out on Clash Day. Everyone got a kick out of the Tricycle and Bubble Gum Blow relay at lunch.

The chance to show off favorite college sweat-shirts was the highlight of Tuesday. The Root Beer Chug was the main event at lunch. Students competed to see what class could chug root beers the fastest.

For Wednesday, students came to school dressed as anybody or anything but themselves. The Mystery Bag Relay was the lunch time event for the Come As You Aren't Day.

On Beach Day, students dressed in California beach styles and brought anything from lawn chairs to surf boards. During lunch, students competed to find out who could limbo the best in the Limbo Contest.

Thursday night's bonfire was just the beginning of the rise in spirit for Friday night's game against Deer Valley High School. Larry Prochnau's class won the dummy contest, and burned it at the stake in celebration of the Homecoming game.

To end Homecoming Week, Friday was Toga Day for seniors, and Orange and Blue Day for freshmen through junior classes. At lunch, students got the chance to get even with teachers by attempting to hit them with a pie at the Pie Auction. Of course everybody thanked those volunteering teachers for participating in the event.

'Heaven Can Wait' offers intriguing humor

by Cyndy Breslau

'Heaven Can Wait' a comedy-fantasy written by Harry Segall was chosen for Thunderbird's fall play. The play's plot is quite confusing, but in the end everything works out fine.

Joe Pendleton (Jonathan Parker), a boxer, dies in a plane crash, too early. By accident his guardian angel, Messenger 7013 (Tracy Weyers) claims his body too soon. Messenger 7013 has to get his soul back to Earth, and into his old body. By then it is too late, Joe Pendleton's body has been cremated.

Then Mr. Jordan (Peter Overland), heaven's head man, steps in and takes Pendleton's soul to Mr. Farnsworth's body. Mr. Farnsworth was just previously killed by Julia Farnsworth (Julie Naimo) and her her lover Tony Abbott (Martin Gaxiola) for Farnsworth's wealth.

Farnsworth (actually the old Joe Pendleton) becomes a boxer under Pendleton's old manager, Max Levene (Jim Torre). During Pendleton's time as Farnsworth he has time to fall in love with Bette Logan (Alison Clarke). Farnsworth then is killed again by Julia.

Next Pendleton's soul goes to another fighter, Kayle Murdock, for one last fight. Then he finds Bette again and falls in love again.

'Heaven Can Wait' landed a first for Thunderbird's drama department. The cast included a dog named Zack, which was Julia Farnsworth's pet.

"Heaven Can Wait" ran through November 20, 21, and 22, in the auditorium. Jane McSpadden directed the play and also created sets which resembled a 1940's mansion. Credits should also given to Mark Trambino, assistant to the director; Matt Dougall, stage manager; and Rebecca Herbig, lighting designer.

"'Heaven Can Wait' provided a lot of experience, and a lot of hard work in such little time, but it turned out really, really well" said Rani Russell, sophomore, who portrayed Susie.

The fashion show, which was sponsored by the Junior Class, was a great hit, according to president Mindy Morrison. Approximately 50 juniors and seniors participated in the charity show which was held on Dec. 4.

Mindy Morrison, Renee Moojen, and Julie Naimo thought of the idea to hold a fashion show to raise money for Cystic Fibrosis. Those who participated in the show raised $150 for the fund. It was such a success that Brides and Proms and Gings Formal Wear plan to hold two more shows next year.

"We got the chance to raise money for a good cause and have a lot of fun, said Morrison.

While student council was busy producing the fashion show, dance students were working hard to prepare for the Winter Dance show. Each dance class consisted of 5 to 7 groups. Out of the three classes over 30 groups auditioned for the show but only twelve acts were chosen. A few of the dances were class orientated but most of the dances were choreographed outside of class.

Jennifer Pink and Wendee Davis along with Michelle Fobar and Cherina Burrows performed dances of their own original work. "The show was a wonderful success. The girls' enthusiasm was more than we expected," said Kathy Marcum, dance instructor.

Campus spirit lights pathway to Christmas

by Kim Helmick

To promote spirit on campus, the Spanish Club sold candy canes that students could write messages on for 50¢ a cane. They were delivered to the homeroom classes on December 17 and 18. "I think the sale was a great idea," commented Kris Lowry.

They did their best to lift holiday spirits. TAP put in their share by donating a tree for the students to decorate in the cafeteria. Even the front of the office was decorated to spruce up for the holidays.

When it comes to lifting holiday spirits the Rix's are professionals at the job. They start building their house into a winter wonderland the first of November. By the end of December the wonderland is finished. The colorful Christmas lights twinkle, the decorations light up brightly, and the music brings joy to many people.

Moon Valley lights up on Christmas Eve, with the traditional luminaries around their driveways and sidewalks. They are lit at 7 p.m. and burn throughout the night.

Canned food, blood drives set records to help needy

by Julie Busch

"Our goal was to beat last year's goal. We collected 10,500 cans last year and this year we collected approximately 18,500 cans," said Larry Prochnau, Key Club sponsor.

Steve Gurule's class collected the most cans with 2,736 labels to show for their effort. They won a pizza party. Larry Prochnau's class had the highest percentage of participation. The teacher's of the classes that raised more than 1,000 cans got a gift certificate to the Pointe restaurant. Those teachers were Steve Gurule, Larry Prochnau, Carl Riney, Bill Gillsinger, and Joan Darling.

Some outstanding Key Club students that deserve to be mentioned are Kathy Donnell who was the very helpful chairperson and Heather Conrad the great co-chairperson according to Prochnau.

Two Key Club members who also helped organize the Blood Drive were Katie Orf who was chairperson and Melissa Cupchak who worked with the people who gave blood.

Close to 200 people volunteered to donate and only 19 were deferred. That left a total of 174 actual donors which will help 579 patients in hospitals in Phoenix.

A contest between government classes was held and first place went to Ron Shone's 3rd hour class which won a pizza party, and in second place was Mike Franovich's first hour class that got a donut party.

"I'm very honored and very proud to have a club as active as this! We've done worthwhile projects that have made a real difference," said Melissa Satterfield, president.

Assemblies stress dangers of drug abuse

by Laura Mast

Assemblies, ranging from serious and informative to peppy and sometimes silly, added a touch of variety to the school year. The serious got you thinking and the peppy got you yelling. Both types of assemblies were fun to go to and well remembered.

Screaming masses of spirited people characterized the pep assemblies. Cheerleaders boosted the spirits of many, supporting upcoming games. Class chants got everyone involved in trying to out-yell the others. Games such as relay races and the human snake brought out teammates of the different sports competing for first place.

"Pep assemblies are exciting, they get everyone involved with whatever is going on," said junior Wes Jensen.

On a more serious note, S.A.D.D., Students

Against Drunk Driving, put on several assemblies. Informative and serious, but interesting these assemblies made students more aware of the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse. They made the students think about the actual danger in even just recreational as well as constant use of either substances.

A slide-reel presentation on drinking and doing drugs brought these problems out into modern terms. In this presentation, there were teens talking about their own contacts with drugs and their results. Set to modern music and in a rock video type style, the message came across loud and clear. "SADD supports a very good cause. Hopefully they have a positive effect on students," said senior Michelle Margolies.

Freedom Jam, an independent rock group that performs at different schools all over America, came to our campus and played at an assembly. Their message of just being yourself and say no to drugs was brought out plain and simple. "Freedom Jam expressed the same message but with a different twist," said senior Cyndy Breslau.

At another assembly, Mark Scharenbroich shared his ideas with everyone, with a touch of comedy. He talked about not trying to be anything you aren't, just be yourself. He also talked about not judging others, give everyone a chance. "He was really good! That was the best assembly we have had so far," said senior Laurie Brown.

From serious to peppy, assemblies really got the students involved with school wide activities. Whether they were sad, fun, or funny they really made everyone think of the issues at hand.

Hitting the books

by Kim Helmick

Unique positions for studying are employed by teenagers. Some teens study all over the desk while others prefer to study all tied up on the floor.

People try to study in many ways, but a few of the most popular are in front of the T.V., on the floor, listening to the radio, talking on the phone or even all of these at the same time. A lot of teens prefer studying with their friends, boyfriend or girlfriend, however in this case not much work gets done.

"I study with my plate full of Oreo cookies, a glass of milk, cool tunes and my boyfriend", said Marie Corpe, senior. Garry Hukill, senior explained, "I study at my desk with the radio on."

But the most common way of studying is by just plain hitting the books!

Express Yourself! Express Yourself!

by Karen Roath

In today's world, when image is so important, it's not easy to find people willing to let their 'cool front' down and be themselves. It's especially difficult when there's a camera around. But the truth of it is, if you're busy trying to be someone you're not, you might forget who you really are, and that's not good. So feel free to show your feelings, make faces and take the time to Express Yourself!

Popular hangouts bring friends together

by Julie Busch

From lunch time hangouts to weekend fun spots, teens enjoyed the company of their friends in and out of school. In school, friends may see each other all day, but they never get tired of going out on weekends and having more fun.

Eating lunch on and off campus also brought friends together for that 'break' between classes. The most popular places around campus for lunch were Pizza Connection, Dairy Queen, Taco Bell, and Naturally Yougurt.

"It's fun to go off campus for lunch just to sort of get away from school," said junior, Christine Aaron. Those who didn't drive or didn't want to walk ate on campus. Lounging around with friends and exchanging the latest gossip could be just as fun. "It's a time to spend with your friends that you don't get to see during the day," said Elaine Vorseburg.

Places where people spent their weekends were teen night clubs, such as Devil House and Sergeant Peppers. "I like Sergeant Peppers because it's a fun atmosphere with no drinking," said Charlene Briggs. Most teens interviewed said they enjoyed dancing and meeting new people at these night clubs.

Central Avenue and Metrocenter were popular places to hang-out or just cruise around. Vince Gilsdorf commented, "I like to go to Metro and Golf-N-Stuff to meet girls and play video games with my friends."

Just hanging out is fun because you're always with friends. Whether it's during lunch or on the weekend, hanging out helps make school more fun and more memorable.

Clockwise from upper left: Scott Stephenson and friends relax over a pizza at Pizza Connection after a hard day at school. Yvette Nunez, Cara Hunt, and Keri Zapotocky chow down at Naturally Yougurt, a popular lunch spot. Paul Taylor fills his Saturday shopping. "What a blast, off lunch is, when it's spent with friends!" exclaims Christine Aaron.

COW FASHIONS

“head ’em up and move ’em out!”

by Denise Fields

Fashion, fashion, fashion the hippest and biggest attention getter of our high school years. Ranging from bikers to cowboy looks, all the clothes that are worn today were once worn before our time. Laughing at old pictures and making fun of how our parents dressed, is not funny anymore.

Looking western is one of the most popular looks around. “The more fringe one has the better the look,” said Natascha Warren. Long straight skirts, shirts that buttoned to the neck, and a loose bolo tie attracted eyes from everyone. Rhinestones and studs made the outfits shine.

Jean jackets play a big roll in “The New Look” as well. To get the pants as faded as can be was the only way in. Collar up and sleeves kept down made the match even better. Cut and length were important factors: the half jacket style, the oversized look, and the blazer cut with lots of fringe, studs and shoulder padding were all popular. Even the traditional Levi jean jacket made a comeback.

The name on the jacket and the jeans had equal importance too. “Guess” was the biggest selling by far perhaps because the different sizes and styles this company produces is unending.

More than holidays, more than music, kids love cars

by Brian Fisher

Cars, 4x4 trucks, and jeeps are probably the most important thing on a teenager's mind, next to getting a passing grade in Algebra. A vehicle seems to be the main symbol of a teenager's status. "Having a brand-new car is the highest of all status symbols," said Tom Roth junior.

Of course, on your new car or truck you have to have a personalized license plate to go with it. A great variety of license plates can be found on campus. Plates can go from one extreme of a person's image to the other.

The hottest car of the year, said students, was the new Suzuki Samurai. These new jeeps even came in the wildest of colors to fit everyone's personality.

Gas prices were another thing on the new car buyer's mind. Gas prices have been the lowest in about the past ten years. Some gas stations even went as low as 76 cents per gallon.

We couldn't overlook the average student's car. To qualify to be "average", the vehicle must have been older than the teenager that owns it. It must have been owned by at least 10 people, and you can't forget that it won't start if you're late for school.

of the

by Mark Olson

The "Sound of Music," a true story that became a famous musical was chosen for the spring production. In choosing the cast for the play, Jane McSpadden, Director, was assisted by the choir director, Mike Dellisanti. Each student trying out was required to dance three different dances, sing a few prepared songs, and show their acting talent.

More than one hundred students tried out for the parts. One stipulation that has not been considered in other casts was height. Because of the children in the story, some students had to be rejected. However, some of the lead roles were; Allison Clarke as Maria and Martin Gaxiola as Captain Von Trapp. In order for Mark Trombino to be included in the play, the part of the youngest girl was changed to a male role instead.

Luckily there weren't too many lighting or sound problems, however, one of the biggest challenges that the young actors faced was playing the parts of younger kids and coming off sounding believable.

"Musicals are much more difficult than plays, but also much more fun. I am super-excited because we have a good cast, and it should really be a fun show," said McSpadden.

Swimming, drama fill Matt's days

by Laurie Brown

Matt Dougall who has been swimming for ten years went to state and took second place in the 100 meter freestyle race. He plans to swim on the University of Cornell swim team. Matt said, "It was a rewarding season and I enjoyed ending high school with the swimmers on the team." Matt is president of the Drama Club and the president of Masque and Dagger. He was in the plays Anything Goes and The Boy Friend. He is also the Student Body Treasurer. Matt was presented the Achievement Above All Award from the Governing Board which was only given to one student from each school.

Matt receives support from the mighty Chief, before a challenging meet.

Teen beauty pageant recognizes Louanna

by Andrea Johnston

Louanna Backman competed in the Teen Arizona Pageant this past July at the Hyatt Hotel. She won runner up for singing "Shy", won Miss Photogenic, and won in formal presentation. She walked away a happy finalist in the competition. Louanna said of the pageant, "It was a lot of fun. I met lots of girls from all over the state."

Winning was based on scholastic achievement, volunteer services, grades, talent, and formal presentation. Louanna certainly showed these qualities.

She plans to attend a college in state, but is still looking for the right one. What does she really want to do with her life? "I want to work with people . . . I just love people!"

Louanna Backman student body secretary and Teen Arizona finalist looks forward to her life of working with people.

Skyline division champ Dee Crosby, competes in cross country meet.

Dee Crosby takes First in Skyline run

by Sandy Oljnyk

Many hours of practice and exhaustion paid off for senior Dee Crosby. He took first place in Skyline Division for Cross Country, and also placed sixth in the State competition.

Dee plans on attending one of the state universities and continue his competitive running. He won the Skyline Division for 86-87 in Cross Country, over the past years he placed first in other Cross Country meets, as well as about a dozen track meets. He is motivated to succeed by his friends and family. "If they are happy with my performance then I am too" he said.

Not only has Dee adequately represented Thunderbird but he was given a chance to represent the United States. He was invited to a race during the Christmas holiday in China.

Dancing in competitions gives senior confidence

by Delise Fields

Senior, Stephanie Taradash has been dancing since age 7. She started at Spinetts Gymnastics and dance, then changed studies to The Dance Shoppe where she is currently dancing. Stephanie has been on the Pom line in junior high as well as the last 3 years here.

She made the performing dance group and danced around the Valley for 2 years, then was moved into the Jazz Etc. Dance Co, where they have performed and competed at Dance American competitions at New Orleans, Houston, Florida, Las Vegas and L.A. in the spring. This is her 2nd year in the company.

After high school Stephanie plans to try out for the U of A pom line, while majoring in Business to get a degree in advertising. Her goal is to someday become a back-up dancer for a movie or video.

Practicing to compete in duo-acting, senior Steve Bencich displays one of his numerous faces and voices as he strives for an excellent rating. (photo by Robin Armstrong.)

President of speech striving for career as movie producer

by Nora Bremser

Who is the funny man of the Senior Class? Steve Bencich of course. He has been the president of the speech team for two years running, he even went to the state tournament last year in the category of humor with Eddie Murphy's monologue "The Ice Cream Man." He had a part in last year's fall play "Ten Little Indians." He has written and starred in many skits for the Speech and Drama Holiday Show presented annually during the last week before Winter Recess.

Steve plans to work his way up the show business ladder, from comedian to actor then to director and he hopes to finish his career as a producer. He says, "My favorite comedian is Robin Williams; actor, Steve Martin; director, Woody Allen; and producer, Stephen Spielberg. He hopes to one day express his talent as successfully as these men have.

Steve has watched movies for as long as he can remember, he even worked in a theater for a few months, "It was great, I could see all the movies for free."

Challenge editor achieves success

by Dani Price

Kathy Donnell, second year editor of The Challenge, has had quite an academically successful year. She was assistant president of Key Club and was successful as chair of the canned food drive. She was president of the Academic Decathlon and publicity chair of NHS. She was also a member of Quill and Scroll and Spanish Honor Society. Kathy was involved in Phoenix Hours Cotillion and volunteer work. Three hours a week she was involved with patient service at John C. Lincoln Hospital. She hopes to attend Stanford and study medicine.

THOMAS APPLIES FOR NOMINATION TO ALL MILITARY ACADEMIES

by Charlie Glenn

Chris Thomas has been in NJROTC all four years of high school. He attained the rank of Lieutenant Commander and the position of Battalion Chief of Staff. He has been a member of the unit's rifle team and is an avid hunter.

Chris's GPA is 3.78, obviously on the advanced curriculum, hopes to attain a nomination to a military academy, preferably West Point, Annapolis being his second choice. But Chris says he'll go to whichever will take him.

Chris is also the S.A.L.T. Team Commander (Sea, Air, Land team), an NJROTC sponsored group involved in first aid training, and survival skills, among other things. This group is the first for Thunderbird, and Chris is mainly responsible for its existence.

Allison Clarke pro in Performing Arts

By Todd Fisher

Singer, Dancer, and Actress Allison Clarke started at the age of 3 in The King and I. As she got a little older she wanted to go on to Broadway, but now she wants to go to college and study business while still working at the performing arts. Working professionally in the performing arts Allison has just finished her 25th show. Among these were The Sound of Music, The Music Man, and Anything Goes. She is presently working on a big production, Fiddler on the Roof with a wonderful actor Theodore Bikel.

Drama naturally attracts Allison Clarke.

Communication pays off for senior officers.

by Judy Danko

"We had a lot of fun together and gained lots of experience," said President Katie Orf. The Senior Class officers main responsibilities were Homecoming and Graduation.

The biggest problem faced by the officers at Homecoming was arranging for the helicopter to deliver last year's royalty. Secretary Pat Chorpenning arranged to have Len Clemmens of Channel 10 come.

Katie Orf commented that she didn't anticipate any problems for graduation. Over the course of the year, she and the others discovered the importance of communication, organization and preparing for things on time, which gave her and the other officers plenty of experience.

The other officers were Katherine Hanson, vice president; Audrey Grenrich, treasurer; and senators; Cecelia Castro, Dana Bruner, Sue Brooks, Jim Cooper and Michelle Margolies.

Traci Burris is a talented art student according to art teacher Harry Urdahl. She has liked drawing since she started scribbling as a child. One of her favorite pictures that she drew was a Bengal Tiger. She takes drawing seriously and for fun, "I'm kinda both because once I start drawing if it's not good I get frustrated, it has to be perfect," said Traci.

Other interests Traci has is track and cross country. She has been in track for three years and cross-country for two years. "In the future I plan to go to college and run," said Traci.

Jenny practices on the ice at Metro Center.

Ice skating occupies Jenny's main interest

by Karen Roath

Double Loop, Flying Camel, Jump Sit, Three Turn, Bracket, Rocker, and Axel are all a part of the ice skater's lingo.

Jenny Gifford has been ice skating for seven years. She has been perfecting her skill by practicing hours every day and training with Olympic medalist Scott Hamilton. Jenny's exceptional talent is also honed by her hard work. Spending up to forty-two hours a week practicing doesn't leave a lot of free time.

The bubbly energetic Jenny simply stated, "I don't mind all the hard work. I wouldn't have it any other way!" Her dedication has earned her qualification for the Ice Capades. However, Jenny plans on finishing school before doing any touring.

Exceptional abilities could mean possible U of A scholarship

by Lori Staton

Jennifer Parlet has an exceptional record in academics and sports. She is ranked in the top one percent of her class and belongs to the National Honor Society, and was elected Junior Liason for NHS.

Jennifer stated, "I'm trying to get a scholarship for U of A because I decided I wanted to attend a state college." On varsity volleyball, she was awarded "most improved." She also went out for track, joined Chief Spirit and belonged to the Dance Club.

Rusty Keagle, junior, flies this 152 Cessna around the Valley. He looks forward to getting his pilot's license soon.

Young aviator finds challenge in piloting Cessna airplanes

by Brian Fisher

Although many people dream of flying planes, Rusty Keagle is one of the people living that dream. Rusty has been flying for over a year now in two types of planes, a 152 Cessna, and a 172 Cessna.

"I found that the first time I flew was very exciting and fun," said Rusty. He is also the first one in his family to fly planes. The cost of flying varies, but runs around forty dollars per hour. Rusty's first solo flight was on April 14, 1985. He has only fifteen more hours of flight before he is eligible to receive his private pilot's license.

Lance takes 6th in national ski meet.

by Julie Busch

Lance Elftman has been skiing since he was seven years old and still skis frequently. He likes to go to Vail, Park City, Purgatory, and many other places to ski. Lance wants to ski professionally and teach a ski school and basically take first in the state this year. He has a good chance because last year he competed against 7,000 sixteen year old skiers and took 6th place in the state of Arizona.

"I think skiing is totally rad! My friends and I jam everywhere we go. We like to go full speed down the toughest hills and not to mention the many wipe-outs, but it's all part of skiing," said Elftman.

Lance Elftman plans to be the best skier in the future.

H.O.E. may lead Kelli into medical career

by Cyndy Breslau

Getting a head start on a nursing career is possible through the H.O.E. program here. Health Occupation Education provides learning through experience. Kelli Noble works at the VA Hospital at 7th Street and Indian School, Tuesday through Friday, and on Monday's takes a class working under a registered nurse. At her job Kelli basically observes in the emergency room, yet often runs errands around the hospital. "If you want to be in the medical profesion, H.O.E. provides the experience you need" Kelli stated positively.

Kelli moved from Ohio and started at Thunderbird her sophomore year. She enjoys tennis and swimming in her spare time. Kelli plans to use her experience from H.O.E. to become a registered nurse.

Performing cyclists master tough stunts

by Nancy Trimble

Trackstands, bar hops, smoothies, endovariation. These are terms used by teens for "freestylin" which is a series of bicycle stunts.

Performed by juniors, Kerry Ashby, Brian Fisher, and Tom Roth love the excitement and the attention received for their talent. Kerry Ashby, who has been "jumping around" on bikes for four years commented, "It doesn't bother me that I am only one of three that freestyles. It's my way of life." "Freestylin' means doing something different and having a good time," said Fisher.

"I don't have to follow rules or standards of performance. More people should ride bikes for the exercise you get while enjoying yourself," said Roth.

Prom funding complete by December

Year after year the Junior Class' main concern is Prom.

The 1987 Prom saw a great many changes. "The Jr. Class wanted to make Prom something to look forward to," said Mindy Morrison, class president.

When planning the Prom the officers class had many first time ideas, including raffling free "limo" rides. They also arranged valet parking, four photographers, and four non-alcoholic wet-bars. Another thought was using charms or key-cains for the guests to keep. Invitations were also different, ideas for that included a tuxedo with an opening bowtie.

The Prom was scheduled for May 9 from 7 to 12 at La Posada. Because of all the changes, the class anticipated a big turnout.

Volunteer parents screen for problems

By Delise Fields

Screening sophomores for the hearing and vision problems is done through the nurse's office every October. Volunteer parents come in for a week to help students and compile records. Once problems are identified students may be screened again and placed with the district specialist for hearing, Shirley Prochnau or Jule Wilson (vision) to receive special help with their course work.

GIS computer gives helpful career advice

by Mark Olson

The GIS computer, which stands for Guidance Information System, provides a vast collection of career and college information and was used mainly by the sophomores.

There was an optional sign up sheet where students were called to the counseling center where they can use the computer. The TA's were also taught to use the computer, and they were a big help.

The GIS computer is very easy to use, a student could come in to the counseling center and sign up. Then the student was called in to use the GIS. It is very small and processes the information quickly. The information is printed out. One copy goes to the student while another copy is mailed home to the student's parents.

"It is very up-to-date, and contains the latest and most valid information on many jobs. I think that it is a unique and helpful instrument and it is a shame that more students don't use it." said Lowie Hussy, Career Coordinator.

'Right Hand Man' for AV lab also interested in computer work

by Timme Tully

Shawn Davis' experience as a second year AV student has earned him the title of "Right Hand Man" in the AV department. As a fourth hour AV, TA, he runs video equipment, does videotaping and takes care of the A.V. department during the first. He runs the student and teacher window for audio-visual requests.

He is also interested in computers. This computer wiz takes his interest seriously when it comes to making games or trying to sell a product. He likes taking the fun side when playing new games. "It's like the computer is the body and you are the brain, you need patience." Some other interests he has are cars, sports, and girls (however, not necessarily in that order).

Shawn works with telecommunications, talking to other computers in Phoenix and Mesa. In the future, he would like to start his own company and design computers. "I like working with them because I have a knack for it. They're interesting because there are no limits to the possibilities they can do," said Shawn.

Robyn sets her sites on basketball career

by Timme Tully

Sports is a big part of Robyn Preach's life because her athletic ability has enabled her to compete at varsity level all three seasons since her freshman year. Her busy schedule covers volleyball and softball then basketball, as well as, keeping up with her classes. Robyn said that she would like to go professional as a basketball player. For the future, she is trying to get a scholarship from a major university. Robyn stated, "Sports is my life, it is like my family." The baby of the team takes it seriously as she only had time for sports and homework.

"The coaches have been a great support and help, they brought out the real person in me," said Robyn Preach, sophomore.

"To the softball and volleyball, basketball team you have all been close to me like my own family," said Robyn Preach sophomore.

Cardboard camera fascinates sophomore

By Lori Staton

A lonely oatmeal box became a perfectly adequate camera in the hands of sophomore Vivek Srinarayana. He and other first year photography students made pinhole cameras in September. "Vivek's print of a cactus and buffalo head nickel showed remarkable depth and focus," according to photo teacher Richard Gross. The pinhole camera is made out of an oatmeal box with a pinhole at one end. You have to keep your finger over the hole until you are ready to take the picture. Then release your finger from the hole for a couple of seconds. After that, cover the hole back up. It's hard to get a good print because you have to keep the camera still. After your done, take the photo paper to the darkroom and develop the negative. When it's developed, you transfer the negative to another piece of photopaper. The end result is a round, indepth shot of the students choice.

Fund raising for prom goal for Sophomore Class

by Nancy Trimble

Raising funds was a big responsibility of the Sophomore Class Officers. They helped run car washes, bagel sales, and candy sales in order to raise money for the class.

Their responsibilities included organizing sales, calling companies, and informing students of their productions. "We would like to have made more money but, the sales have done an edequate job," said President David Eagleston. Two main goals were to earn money for next year's prom and to raise school spirit.

Leadership itself requires a lot of responsibility. Treasurer Andrea Wiles replied, "I've learned a great deal in being an officer. It takes time and effort in organizing fund raisers. Representing the Sophomore Class was exciting and rewarding." Senator Jill Trombino also commented, "We all worked together and enthusiasm was remarkable."

These teens definitely deserve congratulations in striving for their goals and doing an excellent job in representing their class. Their hard work in conglomeration with the new leadership skills they have learned, gives the campus a perfect setting for higher education.

Registration system like a bad dream for lost freshmen

by Laurie Brown

Registering for high school is an experience no one will ever forget. It is especially confusing for a freshman who is for the first time is thrown into the hustle and bustle of high school life. Between getting lost, pushed, and sent to the wrong place it can make freshmen want to go back and start over again or hope to wake up and find out it was all a bad dream but then they finish and realize they get to look forward to doing it again next year.

Cory Young finally finishes registering as mom breathes a sigh of relief.

Craig Narveson wins diving at invitational

by Laura Mast

Winning first place in the diving competition at the Shadow Mountain Invitational was a high point of the swim season for freshman Craig Narveson. Craig has been diving for seven years and has been with the Phoenix Diving Club all this time. Craig was a member of the Thunderbird Diving team this year and did very well. He placed third in divisionals and competed in state.

When asked what he liked most about diving, Craig said, "It's a challenge and I made a lot of new friends from the team."

Butticci twins chosen for attendant honors

by Cyndy Breslau

The Homecoming theme, "Make it Big" could have been "Make it Double". Attendants were chosen from each grade as usual, yet the freshman attendants were quite unusual. The two people elected were twins, Annette and Joe Butticci.

Both Annette and Joe attended Mountain Sky and find Thunderbird a "positive change" said Annette. Neither of the brother-sister pair expected to be elected, nor has won anything before as twins. As far as future plans go, Annette plans to try-out for spirit line in the fall, and Joe planned to wrestle and play baseball as well as play freshman football. For these two, freshman year seems to be a step in the right direction.

Activities in drama intrigue freshmen

by Julie Busch

Drama class provided a creative outlet for freshman students. They worked on one act plays, which took about a month to finish and also did interesting activities such as miming and brushing up on the history of the theater. They also did an oral report on their favorite actors/actresses. They also helped produce "Heaven can Wait."

Eddie Barnes drama student said "I like the class and its challenges. I hope to be in drama for the rest of my years at this school. We all seem to get along and we all cooperate together." We all really get along with each other and it's real neat to get up in front of the class and do a mime, and no one laughs at you if you mess up or do something wrong," Rosanna Pensiero added.

Officers set goal: to be most spirited

by Lori Statton

To have the most spirited freshmen class in the history of the school and provide funds for class activities were the goals set by the Freshmen Class officers. They had bagel sales, candy sales, and car washes. The money earned was used for frosh class activities.

The officers were Kami Artiby, president, Shannon Slaughter, vice president, Jessica Haberer, secretary, Jamie Phillips, treasurer, April Ziegler, Brady Beck and Tiffany Taradash were senators.

The officers hand many responsibilities such as organize sales and keeping the class informed of productions.

"I learned a lot and had fun. Representing the freshmen class takes hard work and dedication," said Jessica Haberer. "It takes time and effort along with reasons. In order to represent a class leadership skills are important. Their ideas for changes in the following years include having more information with organizations and specific duties.

MASTERY LEARNING/ RETENTION

Mastery Learning promotes improved students responses

by Kerry Ashby

The Mastery Learning and Retention programs were set up to help students that were having problems with their classes. These programs were offered to students who were below average in their English classes. Included in these programs were English 1-2, English 3-4, regular, and accelerated, English. All students can succeed and learn but some slower than others. This is what Mastery Learning and Retention is geared toward. To date, there were 459 students enrolled in the programs and every student brought his or her grade up to passing or better.

To keep up-to-date and track of each and every student, the workshop has been equipped with an IBM p.c. computer used by the teachers involved with aiding the students in these programs. The teachers that are devoting their time to these students are Karen Henderson, Mike Siwek, Doris Shoeben, and Brenda Baker. As explained by Baker, "The greatest strength of these programs is the professional dedication to fulfill our educational mission."

Even though these programs are very successful, there are still some faults, like the lack of time and effort to accomplish everything.

More students are expected to enroll in these programs since they were just introduced to the school at the beginning of the year. The teachers in the program have high expectations for total success in the years to come, just as this year has been.

Bottom Brenda Baker works on the IBM p.c. to create a formative test Right Doris Shoeben works on the IBM p.c.

GOVERNING BOARD

New member elected to Governing Board

Anne Schultz, GUHSD Board President

Richard Stapely, GUHSD Board Member

Bill Stout, GUHSD Board Member

John Campbell, GUHSD Board Member

Gerald E. George, Ed.D.
Superintendent of Schools

The five members of the governing board are elected by the community and are legally charged with the responsibility of setting goals and establishing policies which will govern the operation of the district. The Superintendent and his staff, hired by the governing board are responsible for operating the schools according to policy.

by Nora Bremser

Making this school a place where students and teachers want to spend their time is the main goal of Principal, Vern Jacobs. He has been an administrator for seven years and he has taught at schools all over the district. He wants Thunderbird students to strive for greater academic achievements, and he also hopes to decrease the number of absences, however he wants this all to come about positively. He does not wish to close the campus and create a constrained atmosphere.

Jacobs is impressed by the students' leadership and initiative, in such things as the canned food drive and cafeteria re-construction design. Jacobs enjoys spending time with students in their classes. He says that is the best way to get to know the students.

ADMINISTRATORS

New dean and assistant principal join staff

by Karen Roath

Two new administrators joined the staff, Mark Farison, the dean, and Dick Eberly, assistant principal of student operations resources. They joined Stan Edelman, assistant principal of student services, who has been with the school since it opened.

Farison's primary duties as dean were addressing discipline problems, controlling attendance, and supervising the nurse's office. He also had the responsibility of coordinating the foreign exchange student program. This included selection of the exchange students who attended Thunderbird.

At the top of Assistant Principal Eberly's list was organizing the athletic department and school activities. Due to his success in both of these areas, the athletic teams and organizations were ones in which all students took pride. He was also responsible for supervision and evaluation of the teaching staff.

Clockwise Mark Ferrison demonstrates how to clean out a locker. Stan Edelman poses with a good friend. Dick Eberly takes time to pose with his sports posters.

Stan Edelman has been the assistant principal of student services here for 15 years. He had many important duties under this title. Among those were making up the master schedule, which students and teachers would have been lost without, supervising the counseling center, and representing the school on district committees. His other responsibilities were assisting the principal in graduation and the Honors and Awards ceremony.

SECRETARIES

Secretaries make campus life flow smoothly

Karen Roath

The secretarial staff consisted of 15 members, all of which had different duties. Abbie Doesburg, the receptionist, organized announcements and greeted visitors. Carolyn Andrews operated the copy machine for the entire staff. Nancy Shell and Kathy Fisher ran the bookstore. Nancy Volz was responsible for the data processing of attendance rosters and grade cards. Wilma Mirich, AV secretary, scheduled equipment for the teachers. Working with her was Ruth MacKenzie, the library secretary, who mended books and typed the cards for the catalogs. Bev Kucharek, Thais Knight, Ann Nardozi, and Bonnie Steinweg coordinated attendance with such duties as calling parents and setting up appointments for the dean. Lois Hussey ran the Career Center. Finally, the administrative secretaries included Bonnie Green, Mr. Eberly's secretary; Irene Sanderman, Mr. Edelman's secretary; and Mr. Jacobs' secretary, Diane Wedeman.

Clockwise from top: Wilma Mirich works at her desk. Lois Hussey and Nancy Volz look over computer data. Ruth MacKenzie and librarian Sue Cooke check the order of books. CAFETERIA

Remodeling streamlines cafeteria

by Todd Fisher

The Cafeteria staff worked everyday making a wide variety of lunches for the students. Some of the meals include Italian food, Mexican food, and good old American food. The combo plates cost $1.

"These kids are super. They were helpful and really supported us. They were great," said Terry Koegel, manager. The remodeling in the cafeteria wasn't really a problem except having to wait a while in line.

MAINTENANCE

by Todd Fisher

The maintenance men were hard at work getting things ready for the games, keeping the campus clean, and remodeling the cafeteria. "The biggest obstacle we faced was keeping the campus clean," said Robert Teach, plant foreman. From the result of the bond election, the men will be even busier in the future. They hope to remodel some of the science rooms and repaint the buildings.

Pappas spends her spare time promoting spirit, raising funds

by Laurie Brown

Mary Pappas finds spirit a full time job. She has been very school spirited since her high school days when she wasn't a cheerleader but was on the basketball team for four years. When she finished college, she taught at Washington High for two years then worked with the Wrangler tumblers for seven years before she finally came here. She has sponsored the tumblers for seven years, pom for one year, cheer for four years, and the spirit line for two years. Every day she puts in two hours of practice with the girls and a couple of hours with organization's sales.

Ron Shone advises 4 groups

by Kerry Ashby

Ron Shone is totally involved in school, and spends long hours directing student groups here. He is the teacher and adviser for Student Council, Model U.N., and the Academic Decathlon and Coordinator for the Pride Program.

For Student Council, Shone states, "Our school cannot succeed without strong student leadership, support, and involvement. I enjoy making it possible for students to do this."

In Model U.N., Shone wants to help students become more aware of the world around them. As he said, "International affairs affect everyone."

As coordinator of the Pride Program, Shone works to keep students interested and involved in school as he commented, "I want a high spirited student body, high on success, not on the latest drugs."

It's hard work as the advisor of the Academic Decathlon, preparing the team for competition. But Shone doesn't mind because it's educational, exciting, and as he said, "I love to win."

Local colleges hire two teachers here

by Cyndy Breslau

Challenging the minds of high school students is one job, and yet challenging college students is even tougher. A few of the teachers here have been taking on both.

"College teaching offers independence, a certain academic freedom that cannot exist in a high school classroom," said Ruth Knowles about her experiences.

Bob Heaps described college as "more challenging - because people there have been to places that you're talking about." Both teachers agreed that teaching college and high school will better prepare their high school students for college. Several Thunderbird teachers teach a wide range of classes at local colleges. Other teachers who have taught or are now teaching college classes are Diana Sweet, Sheri Butout and Ray Sargent.

ALLIED ARTS

by Julie Busch

The Allied Arts Department offered classes in beginning, advanced crafts and photography. Approximately 250 to 300 students enrolled in Richard Gross' photography classes. They do a lot of picture taking and printing in a year.

"I like making a perfect print of a picture," said Mike Geske. Their new goal is to increase the student awareness in the community. "I learned how to make a complete picture and it's a cool class if you're interested in photography," said Chris Clark.

The classes put together an art show that decorated the main office and drew praise from many people. Some of the members of the department attended a printing workshop in Monterey. The greatest strength the department has is helping students express themselves is through art according to Gross.

"I enjoy the class and hope to learn more. I learned how to draw a person!" said Lawna Shewmaker who was in Harry Urdahl's class. The class creates a lot in a year. They do ceramic mugs and figure drawings plus a lot more creative art activities. The art class were also involved with the art show in the main office. They put in drawings and extra curricular creative things. The students seem to like the class and learn quite a bit.

BUSINESS

Computer Applications termed essential

by Sandy Olijnyk

A computer applications course was introduced as part of the business curriculum. Sherrie Butout, department chair, explained that the new subject lasts one semester and is a vocational class.

Butout recommended this essential course to take to adjust to work in the computer field. The sections were full because the course was highly recommended by the counselors for college-bound students.

"The students have been working very hard to become proficient in computer applications," said Butout.

Clockwise from above Chastity Bulla examines the typing assignment given to her. Jeannie McKinzie concentrates on typing while Keri McDaniel flashes a smile. Spanish classes gain new textbooks, VCR

by Timme Tully

The goals of the foreign language department were to develop critical thinking skills and to be involved in prep. hour workshops. German and French goals were working on increasing students vocabulary development. To meet their goals they got together in periodic department meetings.

Elizabeth Lohff and Kathy Brackney were involved in the Essential Elements of Instruction workshop last fall. Lohff also attended an English as a second language conference.

Some new equipment was purchased by the audio and visual department, including a new video cassette player. Also, the Spanish classes got a tape, that goes with the new textbook called Spanish for Mastery.

"The greatest strength we have is the friendliness and the desire to work together, we are a conscientious group," said Ellen Landenburg, chair of foreign language.

"The foreign language teachers have been very involved in their clubs. The work is hard because of the large number of students enrolled. Most of the time they have one activity each month that is cultural. This gives the students a chance to know each other and themselves as the year goes on," said Landenburg.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics introduces Fashion class

by Judy Danko

The Home Economics Department became very popular with the students this year. They had plenty of classes to choose from such as learning how to cook or working with children. Joanne Michael and Pam Wilson Home Ec. teachers worked to increase awareness of the Home Ec. classes. They wanted to reach their goal and increase interest in the various Home Economics class. "We still have the basic Home Ec. studies, but on campus there is a new study being incorporated into a new class called Fashion," said Wilson.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Reorganizing work areas helps instructors perform

by Brian Fisher

Learning how to make furniture, fix cars or design a building is what Industrial Arts is all about. Most of the effort in the department was put toward reorganizing. The main reason for all this work to get organized said Lee Harkelroad, autos teacher, "... is so we can teach our students better ...". A lot of effort was also put toward reorganizing the shop area itself.

Two problems they had to face were the declining enrollment due to the change in district graduation requirements and the loss of one full-time teacher. The biggest strength of the department is "the subjects we teach and the students," said Harkelroad.

New goals enlighten Language Department

by Nancy Trimble

Essays, books, grammar, tests. Sound familiar? Yes, it is the class everyone loves to go to- English!

Karen Henderson, head of the Language Arts department said, "We established two goals for this year: Promote professional growth and improve personal satisfaction with our teaching careers." Henderson felt those goals were met when instruction was given using small groups for the Writing to Learn forum.

One new teacher came to the department, Kathy Adams. She returned to Thunderbird from Moon Valley. Special recognition was received by Ruth Knowles and Phyllis Gill for developing a district wide model for Writing to Learn.

A few new programs started including Mastery Learning in 1-2 and 3-4 classes, computer assistance in writing instruction (5-6), and Writing to Learn. Henderson commented, "Our strength came from talented, caring teachers who spent endless hours sharing ideas and improving instruction- with a sense of humor!"

MATHEMATICS

Greater demand for math teachers is met

by Patrick Anderson

Two new math teachers joined the staff. One of them, Andy Richey, taught geometry and one class of computer programming. The other, Tim Standing, taught one class of Advanced Math C students.

The number of students in math classes has gone up according to both students and teachers. Diane Emmons, stat teacher, said that the enrollment of students in math classes was steadily increasing. Steven Phillips, senior, said, "I think the enrollment in math classes is up because many universities require four years of math."

Joan Darling's geometry classes created works of art to show what symmetry is. The students obtained a picture of any design they wanted, pasted it to a sheet of paper, and then drew in its reflection opposite the picture. A majority of the students enjoyed doing the project because they thought of it as art and not geometry.

New teacher adds zest to music program

by Cyndy Breslau

New and exciting probably best describes Thunderbird's revised music department.

A lot of first's occurred. Mike Dellisante, the new guitar and choir teacher, helped students better prepare themselves for the "All State" competition. Another 'first' was the combining of the band and the choir for the Christmas concert. Which gave the music department a great new outlook.

The choruses got an added extra when jazz singer Francine Reed came to help the kids with their performances.

Thunderbird's music department also had some serious fun, too, with fund raisers such as cheese and sausage sales, car washes and a sing-a-thon.

More body builders enroll in systematics

by Kim Helmick

While the freshmen run their little buns off in their ever favorite PE class, the upperclassmen work out for better builds in the popular Systematics class and improve their dancing abilities in Modern Dance class.

Due to the slight increase in enrollment of students in the Systematics classes the department had to schedule double sessions during the fourth and sixth hour.

The goals of the department were to improve the physical fitness levels of all students in the PE, Systematics, and Dance classes. They met this goal by doing formal calisthenics every day.

Bret Jarman said, "I am glad that they made a change in the Systematics scheduling, because it was difficult to get into the few open classes." Kim Porfilio replied, "I enjoy my PE class, not only because it gives me a chance to talk to my friends, it also keeps me in shape."

New labs anticipated for science building

by Mark Olson

The Science Department's goals were to raise student scores on the district tests, and to build an advanced science program.

Most of the teachers in the department attended workshops to enrich their teaching ability in order to attain these goals. "I'm the intermediary between the school board and the science teachers," said Richard Aylward, department chair.

Four new labs, which will be placed in the freshman science area, were acquired through the bond election. Chemistry classes also obtained new text books and electronic balances.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Dickson takes on job of department chair

by Andrea Johnston

Although the Social Studies Department did not add any new courses or programs it did gain a new department chair, Ron Dickson. Greg Keller joined the department part-time, he also taught Sophomore English. Ron Shone returned to the classroom to teach two sections of government/free enterprise.

Enrollment and activities in social studies courses stayed about the same as they have in previous years. Government classes held their traditional simulations of the party convention and Senate. Psychology class took a field to the state mental hospital and watched the movies Sybil and Bill. Teachers in the department attended subject area workshops in World History and Government.

A proposed course called Advanced Placement Government was approved and will be offered in the fall.

Dickson commented that the greatest strength of the department is, "Our ability to work together."

NON-DEPARTMENTAL

by Marie Corpe

Goals for the A.V. department were to provide audiovisual support to the faculty and an interesting and job related media production course for students.

The department would like to see more teachers interested in video projects with their classes. "I hope to continue having talented and interesting students in media production," said Diane Demeyere.

"I enjoy working with the video equipment and producing the products," said Michelle Gioglio, (T.A.).

Goals for the Safety Education classes were to prepare students for their driver's license tests.

The biggest obstacle the department had to overcome was getting the students to take driving more seriously, according to Bob Noice, teacher.

Plan to computerize libraries approved by Executive Council

by Marie Corpe

An important goal for the media center was to obtain a computer check-out system. They want to create a five year plan to fully computerize the library. Another goal is to incorporate mastery learning into the freshman library program.

To meet these goals they researched and presented their plan to the District Executive Council. They accepted the plan and now all the district media centers have computers. The new computer system will check out books, keep track of overdue books, and simplify inventory.

The biggest obstacle the department had to overcome was the lack of funds to buy books, magazines, and additional computers.

"Teamwork is the department's greatest strength," said Sue Cooke. Fewer TA's worked for them compared to previous years due to the increase of "required" subjects. "I enjoy working with people and want to have a career in library service," said Cathy Coffman, senior (T.A.).

A goal of the Naval Science department was to raise the enrollment. To encourage increased enrollment, the ROTC squad performed for incoming eighth grade students as well as Thunderbird students.

A new program that started this year was a Sea Air Land Team (S.A.L.T. Team). Which concentrated on survival tactics.

The biggest obstacle the department had to overcome was the reputation of ROTC and to improve their image among the staff as well as the students.

PEER TUTORING

Program provides tutors to help with tough courses

by Patrick Anderson

The peer tutoring classes on campus were there to help students when they needed it. Ron Shone is the sponsor of the tutoring which had many students involved. Students could get help all seven hours and before and after school.

To become a tutor, one had to register for the class during registration. They had the choice of tutoring for one or two semesters. This class was for highly motivated students to experience the advantages and disadvantages of possible future careers such as teaching, probation officer, therapist, nurse, or a social worker. The student's develop personal communication skills as well as supervisory skills, learning how to diagnose learning problems and how to tutor to solve basic learning deficiencies.

The tutor arranged and taught learning programs for selected high school students. Tutoring class required extra time for preparing lessons and attending first period training sessions at least three times a week. Tutors helped about nine students a week. Many of them came back for more help.

"The coaches were very supportive, they never gave us a reason to give up."

"The '86 season was a time to see what we were capable of" replied junior Bear Lundquist of the 1986 football season. The Varsity Football team "tried hard, had a lot of intensity and never gave up," according to Rusty Parker, junior.

The overall record for the team didn't show many of the individual efforts, but Phil Isabel, Kurt Luther, and Kevin Bacchus were all voted most valuable players for offense. Most valuable players for defense included Kevin Bacchus and John Bognanno. Phil Isabel also received First Team All-State Receiver, and Kevin Bacchus was also nominated All-State Defensive Lineman.

"We'll be strong, and next year we're going to the playoffs," was Bear Lundquist's anticipation for next year's Varsity Football team. An estimated one half of the team will be returning next year.

Coach Owen Dejanovich's comments on what made the team were, "their character and attitudes, they played to the best of their ability."

The season ended with a 1-9 record. It isn't one that's likely to be forgotten either; but it should be remembered for the player's determination and the coaches support.

Dedication keeps JV team motivated

by Sandy Oliynyk

JV football had a high spirited team. Although they lost seven games, considering the opponents superior size and speed, the team put up a strong defense. The players gave time and dedication not only as a team, but individually as well. Key offensive players were Jason White, Brady Skousen, Erik Foster, Steve Engan, and Chad Musil. Leaders on the defensive and were Matt Junzinger, Brian Cothran, and John Webb. Their goal was to think and perform as a team. Coach Greg Keller stated, "Although we played schools with superior personnell, we were able to stay close to a number of them."

"Our goal was to think and perform as a team.

Good frosh season attributed to attitude

Freshman football opened the season with a great effort, winning five games and losing three. Throughout the season the team held a good attitude and worked very hard to achieve their record. Coach Emerson stated, "The team was great to work with and I think we had a great season." Some team members showed individual effort. Offensive players include Joe Buttici, Rick Arbogast, Brian Elwartowski, and Rick Saiz. Defensive leader was Shawn Broadus. The leading scorers were Joe Buttici and Richard Seiz. Coach Storey commented, "Over-all the season was a winning one, and the guys played their best."

Varsity Volleyball finishes frustrating 2-14 season

by Dani Price

The Varsity Volleyball team had a die-hard year ending the frustrating season with a 2-14 record. They struggled through the first half of the season winning only one game. Their goal for the second half of the season was, "to learn how to work as one and communicate," stated co-captain Brenda Kobernusz.

Four seniors, seven juniors and one sophomore made up this young inexperienced team. "At the beginning, our leadership was lacking, but our two captains, Dani Price and Brenda Kobernusz did a great job at getting the team fired up; they've all become leaders!" said Coach Teri Neeley.

The most valuable player was Robyn Preach and the most improved was Jennifer Parlet.

Top-notch swimmers catch super wave of excellence

Karen Roath

A wave of excitement rolled into the pool as the swim team primed itself for its upcoming season. Accompanied by moral support and direction from Coaches Mike Franovich and Steve Burke, they practiced weeks before school started, aiming for perfection. Their dedication paid off with a boy's team record of 8 and 5 and a girl's of 9 and 3. Outstanding individual performances were shown by Matt Dougall, who took second in State in the 100 Freestyle, and statistical leaders Geoff Brisbin, Cari Schluter, Todd Aycock, and Ali Brown. Also, the boy's freestyle relay captured an outstanding second in State. Coach Franovich stated that the main goal for the team was to do well in State competition, which was a goal well achieved.

Twenty-five wins, four losses, leads golf to ninth in state

by Brian Fisher

With twenty-five wins and four losses, the Golf team was one of the year's best teams. Two main leaders emerged out of the season. They were Chris Leckey, senior, and George Dobler, junior. Chris was a medalist in 7 out of 13 matches, made "All State", and was voted "Most Valuable Player". George also made "All State".

Other outstanding players were Charlie Wahl and Karsten Solheim. Chris Rutter was voted "Most Improved". Another outstanding player named Debbie Parks, was the only girl on the team.

Coach Manny Rivero said, "We have had as much success and depth as any other year." Golf finished the season fourth place in divisionals and ninth in state.

Badminton faces Tough opponents

by Laura Mast

Although the Badminton team's record of 2-5 didn't show their hard efforts, they really worked hard against some very tough competition. Coach Joan Darling and the team captains Ann Marie Iozzo and Julie Ridgway worked together to keep the girls' spirits alive. They motivated the rest of the girls to do the best they could and above all, not give up.

Some of the outstanding players were Dawn Hart, Sandy Cravalho, Kim Doan, and Rachel Troup. The statistical leader was Renee Moojen. Special awards were presented to Julie Ridgway, MVP varsity; Renee Moojen, MVP junior varsity; Kim Doan, most improved varsity player; Anh Doan, most improved junior varsity player.

"They are a good group of girls who did their best. I feel they are the girls with the best attitudes, are the friendliest, and are both good winners and good losers," said Coach Darling.

The Varsity Cross-Country Boys practiced daily stretching, straining and agonizing their muscles to a full fatigue. "Strength, dedication and discipline is what it took for us to have a successful season," said Coach Dave Doerrer. The varsity boys ended with a season record of 12 wins and 5 losses.

"The boys had a very competitive season and upheld a tremendous year," said Coach Doerrer. Outstanding Varsity boys were Chris Hernandez, Justin Eckhardt and Dee Crosby all seniors.

"I want to thank everyone. We had a lot of fun throughout the season and good luck next year," said Chris Hernandez.

Freshman Cross Country boys had a very tough season, according to Coach Dave Doerr. He was pleased to see that seven boys went out for the season. As the season went on the boys worked hard to prepare for each meet. Justin Alexander got number one freshman in the district. "Justin and the others had a very successful year and I hope to see them out next year," said Doerr.

Brian Booker leads, averages 20 points

by Lori Staton

Tough opponents for the Varsity Basketball team included Brophy, St. Mary's, Horizon, and Alhambra.

Through the tough times the crowd continued to pull through for the Chiefs by participating in war chants and cheers. They enthusiastically edged their team on; which helped lift the Chiefs' spirits.

"Even though the team experienced some losses, that didn't bring their confidence down," stated Venetia Waddell.

The season highlights included beating the top second, third, and fourth ranked teams in the state. The team's major strengths were shooting ability and quickness. Number 11, Brian Brooker, led the scoring with an average of twenty points per game. Mike Nelson, and Alex Nelson shot in the double figures also.

The Varsity usually consists of seniors and juniors, but that did not hold true for this season. Two sophomores, Joe Libman and Tyler Schlink, joined the team.

Coach Bob Noice said, "There were many outstanding members of the team, but the few that stood out the most were Brian Booker, Jeff Sweet, Joe Libman, James Mostofo, Alex Nelson, and Mike Nelson." This was Noice's eighteenth year of coaching. He also played college basketball for four years.

On behalf of Coach Noice and the varsity basketball team, they would like to thank the managers Dave Johnson, Dave Crosby, and Jay Dils for doing an outstanding job during the season.

Frosh team wins by hard work, devotion

by Laura Mast

Although the Freshman basketball team did not win many games, Coach Norb Kissel said, "They put out great efforts and hustled hard."

Frosh basketball brought out a lot of students who hadn't played organized ball before so Kissel had to whip them into shape and teach the fundamentals of the game week by week. According to Kissel they really needed to work on their shooting skills, but otherwise did really well. Team leaders and starting guards were Brady Beck and Adam Assaraf. They also ran the offense for the rest of the team.

Although they didn't win too many games, Kissel said that the boys learned more about the game and should do better on Junior Varsity.

"They are a good group of guys who never gave up even when the chips were down. They definitely aren't quitters! Great attitudes! They really kept the team alive," said Kissel.

Leading the JV Basketball team, Brian Flitcraft and Kevin Ketner kept spirits alive during some trying moments. "The team was held together by support from every member," said Kevin Ketner.

The coach, Tom Sweet, said that although the team had a really tough schedule, they did their best. "They are a good team and with all the improvements, I feel they will be ready for Varsity next year," said Sweet.

They really worked hard and as the season progressed, they became better. Working harder and more together, they became a better team. Supporting each other through both tough and easy times they learned more about the sport and the challenges of each game.

"When we first started, everyone worked on their own, but near the end we worked more as a team," said John Webb.

New coach encourages Varsity Wrestlers

by Kathy Kearns

"They were a young but hard working team that continually gained experience every time they went to the mat" was how Coach Bill Gilsinger described the Varsity Wrestling team. The team included one senior, nine juniors, two sophomores and two freshmen.

Throughout the season there were many excellent individual performances; these included freshmen Cisco Armenta and Ed Waggoner, sophomores Brett Jarman and Mike McDowell, and juniors Reid Behrendt, Cory Child, Joe Escamillo, Simon Montengro, and Alfie Safa. The team leaders for the season were senior Klifton Hoyer and juniors John Bognanno, Allan Kaplan, John Knutson, and Jeff Serrano. The statistical leaders were Klifton Hoyer, John Bognanno, and Jeff Serranno.

Coach Gilsinger remarked that this season was similar to the last, "The team was really young and they should be very strong next year." Despite the team's youth they placed second in the Christmas tournament.

Team work really pays off and this season was no exception. "The team was young and we knew we had to stick together if we were going to win," replied Junior Reid Behrendt.

The team's main goal was to send 6 wrestlers to state. They ended their season with a 500 record.

Unity accomplished for wrestling teams

by Timme Tully

Working hard together for their accomplishments is what the JV and Freshmen Wrestling teams did.

The JV's season was good compared to previous seasons. Some of the statistical leaders were Mike Hess and Brett Jarmen. Brett was also one of the team leaders. Outstanding members were Mike McDonell and Wes Jensen.

"The goals of the year were to represent Thunderbird and win with our team," said Coach T. Bockstahler. Bockstahler has coached high school JV teams for 8 years and also college wrestling.

One of the problems they faced during the year was the many forfeits they received especially against Greenway. Without the forfeits they would probably be the dominating team in the Skyline Division according to Bockstahler. One of the toughest opponents they competed against was Deer Valley.

"The season has gone all and all very good for us. We enjoyed our sport and like competing for the fun of it," said Mark Coyle.

The freshmen team worked hard and long for the chance to compete against other players of the sport.

Some of the team leaders were Joe Buttici, Drew McCabe and Shawn Broadus. The highlight of the season was when Joe Buttici pinned down and beat all of his opponents.

"Our goals of the year were just to go out on the mat and win our games," said Coach Silva.

One of the problems was inexperience. The toughest opponent they had was Deer Valley because they had a large team.

Coach Silva was a two time State Champ in wrestling.

Soccer makes divisionals: scores another good season

By Cyndy Breslau

"Thunderbird's team compared very well to last year's overall play and scoring record," said Mike Kaplan, co-captain of the soccer team.

The team had a lot of returning talent along with some prosperous new hopefuls. "We had a lot of young players; but they all put out a good effort," said Paul Ratner, co-captain.

Improvements by the players, some of the plays that were played and beating their toughest competitor, Apollo were on the list of the many highlights this season.

The soccer team also had some problems. They included injuries to valuable players and problems with scoring. Their strengths were ball handling skills and communication between the team members. These strengths overcame the problems.

Although the team got off to a bad start, they improved a great deal in the second half. Overcoming their problems and emphasizing their strengths, they were led into divisionals, where they were upset by Moon Valley, but left them a ranking of tenth in state.

Two players were given state honors, Lou Percic and Pat Chorpenning. Skyline Division B-league. Top players were, Jason Moon, Mike Kaplan, Paul Ratner, Tim Long, Pat Chorpenning, and Lou Percic, all seniors. Some other outstanding team members were Ted Christie, and Sean Kaye, juniors, Kevin Grube, and Jay Clark, sophomores.

Softball comes close to playoff competition

by Dani Price

The Varsity softball team had its best season ever according to Coach Steve Ogborne. The girls ended the season with a 12-10 record. The team's major strengths were fine pitching, good defense, a strong outfield, and strong hitting.

Team captains were Kelly Fulmer and Jennifer Nygard. Yvette Nunez and Jennifer Nygard led the team with the highest batting averages other outstanding members were Dani Price, Robyn Preach, and Kim Pace.

"The highlights were playing every team a tough game and knowing that all the other teams knew we had the ability to beat them," stated Ogborne, who prior to coaching here played baseball for ASU.

Four girls were selected Skyline All Division 2nd team members. They were: Robyn Preach, 1st base; Yvette Nunez, 3rd base; Dani Price, outfield; Jennifer Nygard, pitcher. Kim Pace and Kelly Fulmer received Honorable Mention.

JV team works through competitive season

by Delise Fields

Competitive opposing teams put the softball team up for a tough season. Having little experience, the girls practiced everyday after school and on weekends. "It was a long season, but all of us pulled together and made it through," said Vikki Calderon.

Coach Larry Prochau stated, "My goals for the team were for the girls to have a good attitude and play hard for each game."

Team leaders were Connie McLeod, Robin Arroyo, Ginger Nelson, and Audrey Endriss; Captain.

A special thanks was given to the team's manager Sandi Nelson, for all her support and assistance.

Freshman Softball had a long, hard season, but major strengths such as hitting ability helped the team.

"It was my first season and I enjoyed working with the girls," said Coach Al Gonzales. He also said that choosing team leaders was difficult because of all of the hard working and devoted players. But Julie Hygard, Jodie Pashos, and Kristie Woollums showed major potential and ability throughout the season.

Due to all of their time spent together the team became very close as both friends and classmates.

"I enjoyed helping other players as much as I could," said pitcher, Kristie Woollums. Other outstanding members were Ashley Haynes, Danielle Harris, Jenny Zalimas, Jenny Brunett, and Angie Gault. Goals they achieved were hustling, sportsmanship, and learning the game of softball.

SPRING

S P O R T S

Prosperous season main goal of Baseball

by Karen Roath

Setting the goal to be more aggressive offensively and defensively was a priority for the Varsity Baseball team according to Coach Steve Gurule.

Seniors Mike Nunez, Mike Hintze, and Jim Luczynski were considered by Coach Gurule to be team leaders. The dedication of all players aided them against Horizon and Deer Valley, the team's toughest opponents. Both Coach Gurule and Assistant Coach Andy Richey had the players practicing everyday after school in hopes they would do well in the Spring Tournament.

This was Gurule's sixth year coaching Thunderbird Baseball and Assistant Coach Richey's first year here.

JV baseball strives for winning season with strong pitching

by Andrea Johnston

Pitching was predicted as the key to success for the JV Baseball team according to Coach Gene Maison.

"We will win games if our pitching comes through," he said at the beginning of the season. He also explained that the team's major strengths were fielding and hitting, which he hoped would take them to a 500 season.

Team leaders identified by Coach Maison were Brad Pilon, Scott McDonald, Joe DeMicheal, and Joe Libman.

'Better athletes' asset for Freshman team

by Andrea Johnston

Good pitching and ball hitting were the highlights of the Freshman Baseball season according to Coach Tim Shulda. He also stated that the team's greatest strengths were hitting and aggressive play.

The team's goals were to be more aggressive and hard on fundamentals.

The season's toughest opponents were Horizon and Greenway, which were good hitting teams. "This year we have a better group of athletes than in the past," he said. Coach Shulda thought pitching could be a problem for the young team.

Richard Saiz and Joe Buttici were the team leaders and three outstanding players Coach Shulda mentioned were Brady Beck, Mike Kincer, and Chris Trapp.

Boys' Track bigger and better than ever

by Laurie Brown

Sixty five track members, far more than in years past, joined the Boys Track team. The coaches predicted the team would have a good season because a lot of quality athletes returned from last year.

Bobby Wojckiechowski, member of the track team, stated, "We can excell in all divisions and aspects of track and field with good coaching and hard work." Of the sixty five members eight were members Coach Siwek thought would be essential to the team they included: Jamie Gard, Steve Prokopek, Ron Colwell, Kelly Shore, Ernie Hart, Dee Crosby, Justin Eckhardt, and Chris Boos.

The coaches were not sure what schools they would do well or poorly against as the season began. Coaches Carl Riney, Dave Doerr, and Bill Gilsinger worked hard to provide numerous opportunities for the team to excel.

Girls' Track hopes to perform well in division, state

by Kerry Ashby

Coach Carol Adams looked for another outstanding year for the Girls Track team. She commented, "I'm hoping we'll do well at Districts, Divisionals, and State," as the season began.

About 30 girls made up the team. Most of them were freshmen and sophomores with some juniors and seniors returning from last year.

The major strength of the team was the spirit of the team members. The cooperation of everyone dealing with the track events was appreciated including all the hard work from Coach Adams and every member of the team.

Enthusiasm: strength of girls', boys' teams

by Marie Corpe

Experienced players including eight seniors and one junior who had played tennis for three years or more were the major strengths of the Girls Tennis team.

As the season began Coach Neeley predicted Xavier, Horizon, Apollo, and Prescott would be tough opponents.

Coach Neeley played four years of Varsity tennis in High School and has been coaching for six years.

"I enjoy working with enthusiastic young ladies and enjoy being a part of their emotional and physical well-being. They are a great bunch of ladies to work with," she concluded.

"The last four years have been a lot of fun and I have made a lot of new friends," said Audrey Genrich, senior.

The only returning Boys Tennis player was John Tully who also led the team. Former JV players James Flink and Ken Teter added much to the Varsity team.

"The team is young and inexperienced, but I think they will be competitive despite their inexperience," said Coach Jim Jeffries at the beginning of the season.

Their season started with their toughest opponent, Brophy, followed by Horizon and Moon Valley.

The team competed in the Kawanis Invitational Tournament; John Tully reached the quarter finals before losing a tough match to the fourth seeded player.

Coach Jeffries has been coaching for six years and enjoys working with young athletes. "The team shows lots of enthusiasm and no matter how the season turns out I think they are all winners," he concluded.

New Coach predicts fun, winning season

by Nora Bremser

Many of the members of the Varsity Girls Basketball team were returners for a second season. They included seniors Brenda Kobernysz, Georgeanne Soberay, and Kelly Fulmer.

Coach Mike Franovich said Horizon would be their toughest opponent. To help the team do well against tough opponents, the coaches planned to obtain detailed scouting reports. Using these the team could prepare effective offensive and defensive plays.

Franovich said, "We're looking forward to a good season, we will have some tough opponents, but I think we will win more games than we lose." Franovich predicted the team would be strong offensively and defensively and that they would center on a running game.

Although this was coach Franovich's first year as Varsity Girls Basketball Head Coach, he coached JV Boys Basketball for 8 years, assisted Coach Burke with the Varsity Girls team for one and has been the head Swim Coach for two.

Alexia Sgrillo, a player on the Varsity said, "The Varsity Girls Basketball team is going to be great this year and I'm looking forward to our season. The team intensity is great and we hope to have a winning season."

JV improves playing skills for new season

by Patrick Anderson

Strengths of the JV girls Basketball team included enthusiasm and the willingness to work hard to strive for excellence according to Coach Gary Johnson.

He also said he emphasized team play to show the girls that teamwork is what wins the games. He planned more practice time for the team to help them improve their basic skills.

This was Coach Johnson's second year coaching girls basketball. As the season began he said that he hoped the girls would play extremely well.

Freshman girls' basketball team improves basic skills, quickness

by Patrick Anderson

Some advantages for the Freshman Girls basketball team were their overall quickness and their superior rebounding skills according to Coach Ron Dickson. He also predicted that the team would do better than in other seasons.

Helping Coach Dickson was Al Gonzales who helped the girls with their defensive skills in the game.

Germany, Sweden send exchange students

by Lori Staton

Some people have always dreamed about going to different countries. Andreas Köpf, Micheal Busch, Martin Bächle, and Stefan Herdinius have made that dream come true. These are four foreign exchange students that joined this student body for the year.

Andreas Köpf is from Rottendorf, West Germany. Andreas arrived here on August 15, and is staying with Don and Kathryn Voss. He came to the United States because he wanted to learn about other countries and their lifestyles. To him, the American lifestyle is different, but he enjoys it very much. Andreas expressed, "I would like to thank everybody that helped me at THS for their hospitality."

Stefan Herdinius is from the Southeast part of Sweden. Stefan said, "I wanted to come to the U.S.A. because I heard other people and friends who had been here talk about how great it was." He said that upstate New York looks like Sweden. At home he played in a big band and was very much involved in music. Here he has been involved in vocal ensemble and concert choir.

Michael Busch is from West Germany. He lives in a little village south of Munich called Sauerlach. He arrived here on August 19 and is living with the Dougall family. Mike decided he wanted to become an exchange student because he wanted to learn about a foreign culture, make new friends, and perfect his English skills. "I like the way the American's participate in sports here because I'm fairly athletic," stated Mike.

Martin Bächle, is an exchange student from the Federal Republic of Germany. He's staying with the Pensiero family. Martin joined Y.F.U. to study other cultures, learn English and to be confronted with new surroundings. He loves German cars, Italian shoes and hot food.

Here, he likes the palm trees, football, sun and remote controls for T.V.'s. He doesn't like American food, and the right of music choice because he feels for certain people, it has a negative effect on them, and it has affected him a lot. Martin's extra curricular activities are, gliding planes, tennis, bicycle racing, and skiing. He plans to be a pilot of the German Airlines, "Lufthansa." They train in Phoenix so he should be coming back.

Martin said, "I would like to thank my host family for everything they have done for me throughout my visit here. For those of you who knew me at Thunderbird, you were very helpful and offered great support."

Ambassadors guide parents for Open House, Orientation

by Laura Mast

The Ambassador Club is one of the many service oriented clubs around campus. Their services are mainly geared toward school needs. They worked registration and welcomed eighth graders and parents at Parent Night. Whenever help was needed the club was called upon by Stan Edleman, assistant principal.

Future goals according to Linda Pfeifer, sponsor, include setting up a sponsorship for a needy family to make their Christmas special. Another goal is to set a scholarship to a local college for its members.

"They are hardworking, well behaved young adults who really are excellent representatives of the school," said sponsor Darlene Fritsche.

Writers Guild uncovers talent

The Writers Guild plays a leading role in bringing out the talent of the Thunderbird. Although they are a fairly small group, what they set out to do, they accomplished. Any pieces of writing turned in to them, they accepted, carefully sorting through them and picking out the very best. Not all were published but those that were, were of excellent quality. When all pieces were put together, the result was the Thunderbird Literary Magazine.

"They are a very talented group of kids who worked their hardest to get the magazine out," said sponsor Doris Schoeben.

President of the group was Scott Rex; vice president, Debbie Kirchoff; and secretary-treasurer, Jay Sandhaus.

NHS collects toys for needy children

by Laura Mast

One of the main clubs on campus is the National Honor Society. NHS which is geared for service as well as recognition, headed several projects during the year. For many years they have collected toys for kids who otherwise might not have had them. This year they collected for Friends of the Family. According to Dr. Ray Sargent, sponsor, they collected nearly 100 different toys and also painted toy trains for the kids. NHS helped the Optimists throw a party for the underprivileged kids who received the toys.

"NHS is a very service oriented group, it is full of people who want to help," said Sargent. The group was also led by Ruth Knowles and Sue Delucia.

National Honor Society officers were, Audrey Genrich, president; Katie Orf, vice-president; Marley Fefer, Secretary; and Bob West, Treasurer.

Band organizes fundraiser for spring California trip

by Delise Fields

At 6:30 a.m. and after school the band practiced diligently for half-time performances. Director Hugh Hilditch worked the band all these hours to prepare for all of the home football games, the Deer Valley Invitational, and the State Marching Festival.

Drum Major Diana Heck provided leadership and encouragement, and helped select the music the perform which included; "New World Symphony", "Drum Break", "Variations on a Korean Folk Song", and for the closer "Jupiter."

After marching was over, the concert band began practice for their Christmas show, which included the chorus group. They also prepared fifty different pieces of music for other concerts. The band planned a trip in the spring to California, but of course the trip required fundraisers to gather money, so they had car washes, a cheese and sausage sale, and Christmas greens sale.

The officers included: Cindy Porfilio, president, Robin Horowitz; secretary, and Christy Majors; treasurer-librarian.

Sing-a-Thon raises money for scholars

by Lori Staton

Choir is divided into three different sections, the Coralaires, Concert Choir, and Vocal Ensemble. Within these three groups, ninety students were involved. Patricia Todd was the President and Mike Dellisanti was the faculty sponsor.

Throughout the year they attended many activities. Concert Choir went to a choir exchange at Phoenix College and attended the A.C.D.A. Entertainment Festival. Vocal Ensemble went on a three day two night Jazz and Madrigal Festival February 12-14.

During the year they presented several home concerts and the choir department held a four hour Sing-a-Thon at Park Central Mall. The money they earned was donated to the Thunderbird Scholarship Fund.

Club raised funds for trip to California

Karen Roath

One theater orientated club was Thespians. "The club's main goal was to promote good theater at Thunderbird," stated club sponsor, Jane McSpadden. Thespians is an Honor Society, so members had to earn their titles by working over one-hundred hours on play productions.

Officers were Louanna Backman, president; Julie Naimo, vice president; Allison Clarke, secretary; and Julie Wilson, treasurer.

Masque and Dagger promoted good theater here also, as well as getting students involved in theater arts and active in drama.

The club's requirements for membership were to attend the meetings and work on the shows. The sixty members, sponsored by Jane McSpadden, planned fund raisers for a trip to California and equipment for the auditorium.

Members who displayed extraordinary club efforts were honored in the awards ceremony at the end of the year. Officers included Matt Dougall, president; T.J.Kuhn, vice president; Jenny Voss, secretary; Jonathan Parker, treasurer; and Louanna Backman, historian.

Competitions develop skills of Chess, Decathlon teams

Karen Roath

Practicing before or after school prepared the chess team for their many tournaments held throughout the year. "The primary purpose of the chess team is to improve member's chess skills and also provide experience with a wide range of players by participating in tournaments," said Hugh Hanson, club sponsor. Members of the team held a candy sale and sold refreshments at their competitions to raise money for new equipment.

Officers included Kevin Hall, president; Mark Thompson, vice president; and Scott Watson, team captain.

Academic Decathlon required dedication and willingness to practice. Club members met Monday's and Thursday's to prepare for the Decathlon competition. Skiers enjoy Snow Bowl excursions

by Nancy Trimble

Ski Club went to Snow Bowl four times and took their annual trip to Colorado.

One member, Mike Murphy said, "The cost of the trips were pretty high, but well worth it." The main goals are not necessarily to teach students to ski, but mainly to enjoy skiing while becoming better, safer skiers.

AFS (American Field Service) is an organization that stretches to almost all foreign countries. Its purpose is to promote intracultural understanding, though its main function is sponsoring foreign exchange students. This idea allows a student to experience a different type of schooling as well as a different culture. According to Karen Henderson, sponsor, because AFS was smaller they no longer had to do fund raisers.

Club's summer trip to Continental Divide

A new club formed on campus, the Explorers. President Bob West stated, "We changed the Explorers to a club because we decided why not let everyone have as much fun as we were?!"

The main purpose of the organization was to keep in top physical shape while learning about nature. Over the summer, the Explorers went to the Colorado Rockies and the Continental Divide. The members also went hiking repelling, spelunking, and biking.

The members included Bob West, Chris Thomas, Jeff Trohan, Jack Satterfield, Scott Flohrschutz, Mike Bane, Russ Richelsoph, Glenn Stracener, Ivan Harrell, Sean Harrell, Rob Macphee, Mike Murphy, Brian Karaker, Danny Simmelink, Nathan Lewis and Andreas Koepf. Their other responsibilities included baking cookies, sweets, and promoting spirit for the players and the spectators.

Language clubs sell pretzles, plan trips

by Nora Bremser

The Spanish and German Clubs are dedicated to help students learn about the culture and languages they represent.

Laura Mast, junior, said, "I joined the German Club because I wanted to learn more about German culture and gain more experience in speaking the language."

The German Club has participated in many fun activities such as attending several restaurants specializing in German food. For fund raising they sold soft German pretzles. Club sponsor, Kathy Brackney said, "I am greatly impressed with the officers' sense of responsibility."

Spanish Club kept busy going on trips to Mexico and planning a trip to South America for the summer.

Spanish Club membership was up to 85 official members. According to Ralph Gaxiola this group is energetic and enthusiastic, they contribute to the club and make it the best club on campus.

During the year The Ceverantes Chapter of the National Spanish Honor Society was instituted with the initiation of nine members. "I am very glad that we were able to start the honor Society at Thunderbird this year, and I would like to commend the members on their achievement," said Ralph Gaxiola. The society is sponsored by Gayle Gadus.

Membership doubles: More activities planned for French

"French Society was created to encourage an interest in the French culture, language, and way of life," said Ms. Ellen Ladenburg, sponsor of the club. French Society is the sponsor of French National Honor Society and French Society scholarships.

The members of the club are usually students who have taken or are taking a French class, in fact; this year forty percent of all French students were members. The club membership has increased by fifty percent this year.

Matt Pennypacker, the president of French Society said that it has been a great influence on his life. He has been a member for four years, and this was his second year as president. He believes that holding this office for two years has made him more responsible and made it easier to preside over the meetings. Vice President Allison Clarke and Treasurer Lori Lofgreen have also held their offices for two years. Zoe Chapman was serving as secretary for the first time. Events planned for the year were a fondue party, a dessert tasting, a cheese tasting, a candy sale and a pizza party—"support the chiefs" football night, and at the end of the year to top it all off a dinner at The Golden Eagle Restaurant.

D.E.C.A. is a club that serves the community and the school. The officers are Bill Burcham; President, April Olsen; Vice-President, Stephanie Wenzel; Secretary, Bill Shumway; Treasurer, Wendy Olson; Acting Chairman, Chris Pickett and Yvonne Venetz were Senators.

The requirements for membership were students must be in a D.E.C.A. class and have marketing jobs. There were twenty-four members and it was unique for D.E.C.A. because they had a new sponsor, Ed Schwartz. D.E.C.A. went to a convention on October 22 and held a spring banquet. In interviewing some students, their comments were: "I joined D.E.C.A. to get a job and have extra experience.

Now I am a cashier at the Big Apple North." stated Jacque Davenport. Acting Chairman Wendy Olson said, "This is my favorite class, I earn two credits and get paid for my job." D.E.C.A. students sold calendars, charms, and held carwashes. The money they earned was used for conferences, the spring banquet, and national dues.

Popular blue shirts build school spirit

By Kim Helmick

Chief Spirit motivated the spirit of the entire student body through THS shorts, sweatshirts, and the popular blue t-shirts. The club made spirited banners to arouse the spirit of the "CHIEFS" at every game and match. They tried to keep school spirit alive and kicking by sponsoring activities such as the Homecoming Bonfire and the Dummy contest, which was a "BIG HIT" says Gary Hukill. Chief Spirit sponsored many other activities throughout the year.

Spiritline dedication captures special honors at NCA camp

by Kim Helmick

Spiritline captured the spirit of the '86 - '87 school year. The Varsity line included 14 girls who were led by Captain Kristen Foerster and Co-Captain Katherine Hanson.

The Spiritline's dedication, hard work and even the few disagreements paid off when they brought home the Spirit stick from the NCA Summer camp and presented it to Principal Vern Jacobs at the first assembly. They also won the superior rating all three nights they were there. On Nov. 8 they attended the Southwest regionals.

"Our goal for this year is to make it to the Nationals in Orlando Florida," said Katherine Hanson.

NJROTC, not just credit, it's an adventure

by Charlie Glenn

The NJROTC unit is bigger and better than ever, according to CWO4 Tex Holyfield, Naval Science Instructor. The Battalion Chief of Staff for 1986-87 is C/LCDR Chris Thomas, the Company Commander is C/LCDR Samantha Madison. C/LTJG Tim Pore is Battalion Aide, and C/LCDR Kristine Hartwell is the Administrative Officer.

Close to 50 cadets enrolled in the class to study naval history, leadership skills, and the general customs and courtesies of the U.S. Navy.

The class itself stresses accepting responsibility, good moral character traits, and developing good habits among other things. The organization rewards the display of these things with medals and ribbons worn once a week.

The primary goal of NJROTC is to prepare high school students for the real world, the second is to familiarize young cadets with the Navy and the military in general.

The Drill Team, an elite unit, trained in the art of precision marching with arms, planned to attend a number of parades and tournaments. The Rifle Team, which shoots competitively with .22 cal. target rifles, planned to participate in a variety of matches around the nation.

The unit acquires most of their equipment by selling candy and other fund raising activities. The money is used for purchasing flags, supplies, and equipment to support the units' many extra-curricular activities, and generally improving the classroom spaces.

Each year the unit takes part in numerous school and civic projects in the local area. Last year, they decorated Metrocenter for Christmas and plan on doing it again this year.

Key Club

by Marie Corpe

Key Club was pleased with it's large membership. More than 100 were paid members and over 50 were active members. "The increase in motivation among old members and the strong recruitment of new members was great", said Carl Riney, sponsor. Requirements to be a member were paying dues and being involved in activities and fundraisers.

Goals for the year were to be more in touch and involved with the community. Major activities planned included the annual canned food drive, the blood drive, the stair climb, the walk-a-thon, and a teacher appreciation dinner.

The group began the year with a successful candy sale which made $700 in two days. Some of the money was donated to ROTC for a new flag in the quad, $50 was donated to the Homecoming fireworks, and the rest was to be donated to charity. Credit for such a successful Key Club go to the officers, according to Larry Prochnau, sponsor, "I enjoy Key Club because it's fun and I like helping others." Said Laura Falaschetti, senior.

Arizona Model U.N. goes to Tucson

by Patrick Anderson

Arizona Model United Nations planned to go to the University of Arizona in Tucson to compete for two days with other schools from both Arizona and California sometime in February. At the convention, the ambassadors were required to wear the formal attire of the nation they represented.

The purpose of the organization was to familiarize the students with current international affairs. The goal of Model U.N. was to have the students learn the value of the art of diplomacy which will be of great value to future ambassadors. When asked why the class is important, Roger Post, an ambassador from the United States, replied, "The worldwide repercussions of the geopolitical actions taken on the floor of the U.N. are of grave importance to the world. It is also very important for a citizen to be informed about every political action."

Ron Shone served as sponsor and Secretary General for Model U.N. again. The officers were Nathan Lewis, President; Tony Pensiero, Vice President; Roger Post, Treasurer; Lawrence Schuman, Secretary; and Mindy Fenix, Historian. The organization planned some fund raisers to help pay for the transportation to the competition in Tucson.

S.A.D.D. assembly for Chiefs Student Council puts together

Student Council had another great assembly for the S.A.D.D. Program according to Brian Booker, Vice President. They are continuing to have the program to get one message to each and every student - "Don't drink and drive!". All student council members and officers know that S.A.D.D. is a very effective weapon against driving drunk.

Another problem with some high school students is drug use, both on and off campus. Student Council had either an activity or a guest speaker at every assembly that promoted the idea that it's okay to say no to drugs.

The sponsor of Student Council was Ron Shone. Other executive officers were Alicia Jackson, President; Louanna Backman, Secretary; Matt Dougall, Treasurer; and Davinna Artibey as Chief Justice.

"The goals of the Forenics Club or Speech Team was to give students an opportunity to experience the benefits of communicating publicly and to increase self awareness and self confidence through these activities," said Joette Regnier, sponsor.

The Speech Team competed approximately once a month in tournaments in drama, serious prose, poetry, duo-acting, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and debate.

Along with an increase in membership Speech decided to have some jointly held-offices, to distribute the work more evenly. The officers were: President, Steve Bencich; Vice president, Allison Clay; Secretary, Zoe Chapman and Lori Schluter; Treasurer, Jim Torre and Tracy Weyers.

Dance receives outfits for upcoming programs

by Nora Bremser

Dancing is a way to express yourself, on the stage with an audience watching your every move with awe; you are free from inhibition. You can be serious or humorous. All that matters is you, the music, and the moves. This, according to Cherina Burrows is why she joined the Dance Club.

They sold candles to buy costumes and awards. The costumes were for a concert that was planned for December, and the awards were presented at the end of the year.

Members often join because they have an interest in dancing just for the fun of it or the hope of one day dancing professionally.

Because the group was so small, they didn't plan a service project.

Building up their treasury so they could provide ten scholarships to Publications Workshop over the summer was the primary goal of Publications Club. Fund raisers included a bake sale in October, selling personal ads in The Challang throughout the year, and sponsoring the traditional yearbook signing party in May.

The Club helped purchased film and camera equipment for the school publications.

CHALLENGE staff does own typesetting, Photo Club explores careers on trips

by Cyndy Breslau

THE CHALLENGE hit the presses each month with a very different look. Staff members typeset the stories themselves rather than have it done professionally. "We saved more than $250 each issue by setting the copy ourselves," said Jean Franovich, advisor.

Kathy Donnell, stepped into her second year as editor.

Thunderbird's Photo Club sponsored by Loren Rodewald and Richard Gross is a club which helps students learn about careers in photography. Rather than using cameras the members take field trips to studios and art museum. A few of the planned trips for photo club were to Studio 10 and the Phoenix Art Museum.

Staff produces larger book since class time reinstated

Yearbook class was reinstated after four years of producing the book by volunteers. The class had about 25 students that were ready and willing to work hard to develop a book to please the students. The staff strived to make his yearbook better than all the yearbooks in the past.

They put in numerous hours after school as well as class time to produce a much larger book. "The yearbook class is different and exciting because the book we make today people of tomorrow will read," said Laura Mast, staff member.

"This is the book that will be cherished in the years to come and will gain value as time passes. Children will look through it and laugh at the clothes we wear and the way we wear our hair, but it will always remind us of good times and happy years," said Nora Bremser, staff member.

Kites can be replaced; pilots can't

Kite flying is fun whether the pilot is a youngster, teenager or adult. Be careful. Check for power lines before you fly. Always fly in an open area — well away from power lines. Call your electric utility if your kite gets caught on a power line. Don't try to get it down yourself. Remember, kites can be replaced — pilots can't.

Remember the . . . good times

Far upper left New York city gave the Statue of Liberty a big 1986 bash—a Fourth of July festival of song, celebrities and fireworks honoring the great lady's first 100 years. Far left Britain's Prince Andrew married red-haired English commoner Sarah Ferguson in July at Westminster Abbey in a spectacle that mustered the pomp and glory of Brinian's 920-year old monarchy. Left Caroline Kennedy, who captures the America's heart as a little girl romping through the White House, married Edwin Schlossberg, a New York businessman and artist in Hyannis Port, Mass., on July 19, 1986. Above Left Miss Tennessee Kellye Cash, the grandniece of country star Johnny Cash, was crowned Miss America 1987. Above New York Mets Gary Carter is lifted in the air by relief pitcher Jesse Orosco following the Mets' 8-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the seventh game of the World Series.

 Hey, we finished.
 Me, you and
 Boardwalk Bank!
 Well, we survived Mr.
 Purdy + his boring lectures.
 I hope we will see each other again soon. Good luck with your girlfriend and whatever your life may lead to.

Ten Year Reunion

Student Council would like the Class of '87 to remember that ten year reunions can be more fun than looking through a yearbook. Please get back in touch with the Thunderbird High School office in 1997 to help organize the 1997 Ten Year Reunion.

Dear Don dude-

Well, I've heard so much about you through your little girlfriend, Jenny!

Are you really the outrageous sex machine Jenny says you are? She's thrilled me many times with stories of your "manliness!" It's been great lunch-time conversation, let me tell you!

Don't you two ever rest?? I'm only kidding, Jenny hasn't told me all your secrets (yet!!!). But, really, even though I've talked to you-maybe twice-

I hear about you everyday at school & on the phone sometimes. Well, Jenny's drooling here behind me because she wants to look at your picture again...

and again.....and again... etc. But,

have a great life and have fun!

Jenny's friend!!
Jenny

PS- Did you really do everything Jenny said you did to her? I never would've thought anyone could do all without dying from pure exhaustion!

Farewell from Melissa, now stressless editor

Well, that's it! It's been an interesting year to say the least. I guess the closing is supposed to be filled with memorable clichés, but I just couldn't write that way because I believe that's what is so unique about the book. It is Out of the Blue!!

Out of the Blue, includes good ideas. It is intended to focus on the average students and their life styles, which so many yearbooks fail to capture. I wanted a book that the majority of the students could relate to. It would become a book that you didn't have to see how many times your friends were in! As far as A New Image, I saw a new image coming across the campus that wasn't limited to the makeover of the buildings. People matured (believe it or not). The seniors I'm graduating with only faintly resemble the personalities of my freshman year. That's not bad, I'm completely grateful!! People just never stop and think how far they have come, but they always seem to see how far they have to go! That's why a yearbook becomes so special.

I'm a first time yearbook student, as well as editor, but I've been in newspaper for three years and I know the type of pressure you can be subject to. As an editor, I can remember how many hours I put into this book (before, during, and after school eating old chips and pizza until 8:00 pm.) It's been a lot of fun, yet extremely "stressful" at times. There was much more to this book than what is on the surface.

I would like to thank so many of those staff members who did the "meat" of the book and deserve lots of credit for their hard work all year! Since there has not been a class in over four years, they had to struggle through many lessons on how to put a book together while doing it. I'm sure they can never forget the hours spent on writing their copy and some real tough headlines.

In particular, I would like to thank Nancy Trimble for being my third arm. Sharing the load sure helped me during some real heavy times. Thanks again Nancy for all your great ideas! Most for being a great friend! Next I feel is almost indescribable how much everyone appreciates Mr. Gross. Without him we would have the yearbook novel. Really a crazy guy Mr. Gross (I can't figure out how he does it!) Who can stay so calm?

With his crew comes people like Glenn Beauchamp who will still hear ringing years from now "I need more photos! Sorry, We can't use this photo, I need another one." As yearbook photo editor, Glenn had an incredible amount of photo orders to fill. Thank goodness for the people like Paul Freeman, Mark Haladyna (special photo assignments), Steve Yee's ("real quick" printings), David Wilcox's (last minute photo set ups) all these photos were made possible. This also extends to the whole photo class, many whom I know only by the print with the name on the back. I would especially like to thank Mr. Jacobs and the administration for aiding us with some of the wacky photo ideas. Special thanks to Abby Doesburg for all the odd's 'n ends that she helped out with!!!

I really can't forget all my teachers who put up with yearbook and me. Then those great newspaper staffers who contributed their time typing copy when I needed it the most!! I really appreciate them asking me if there was anything they could do to help. "Thanks guys, you saved my life!" There were so many people I don't even know by name, that contributed so much. I haven't forgotten you. Thanks a bunch.

Finally, is Mrs. Fran (Franovich). She's so wacky that she's made the worst times bearable! Somehow her jokes kept us having a "Happy Day". Even with complete craziness comes a real dedicated serious side that she showed by doing layouts and headlines while she was sick in the hospital during our first deadline. Words don't even describe how much I appreciate all the time she alone personally contributed. Most of my thanks goes to her. The whole book would be spelled wrong anyway without her checking up on me because I can't spell "w-o-r-t-h- b-e-a-n-s."

So I will leave on this famous note! "If it weren't for the last minute, nothing would get done."

Now Stressless Editor,
Melissa Satterfield

Don,

SAVE

("Hi Jenny & ya Michelle!")

I am really glad that I met you at the DON'S TREK! I never thought or imagined anything like our relationship could happen! It had better last forever and I have confidence that it will! You better teach me how to play golf this summer! And water ski! We are going to have a lot of fun! Especially, if I don't go to Pinetop every weekend! You better ~~not~~ ^{oops!} set my mom up with an older man! Much older than Mark Anthony!

Don, I'm glad
